

Featured Instructors

Tom Gullikson

Gullikson has had an illustrious career. He reached a career high of #34 in singles and #9 in doubles, most notably in performances with twin brother Tim. The duo reached the Wimbledon final in 1983. Gullikson won one career singles title and 8 career doubles titles, and has coached such top players as Jennifer Capriati, Todd Martin and Pete Sampras. From 1994 to 1999, he served as U.S. Davis Cup Captain, leading the team to victory in 1995. He also coached the U.S. Olympic Team in 1996 where he helped Andre Agassi win the gold medal.

Lindsay Davenport

Davenport has been ranked No.1 in singles and doubles on the WTA Tour. She has won three Grand Slam singles tournaments (1998 U.S. Open, 1999 Wimbledon and 2000 Australian Open) and earned an Olympic gold medal in singles in 1996. She has won 55 WTA Tour singles titles and 37 doubles titles. She is one of only four women (the others being Graf, Navratilova and Evert) since 1975 who have been the year-end World No. 1 at least four times. Davenport finished 1998, 2001, 2004, and 2005 as the top ranked player.

Corina Morariu

Morariu reached a career high of #29 in the world in singles and #1 in the world in doubles on the WTA Tour. She won the women's doubles title at Wimbledon in 1999 and the mixed doubles title at the 2001 Australian Open, and reached the Australian Open women's doubles final in 2005. In 2001, Morariu was diagnosed with leukemia and underwent chemotherapy. She made a full recovery and returned to competition in 2002, later becoming the WTA Comeback Player of the Year. Corina currently serves as lead commentator for Tennis Channel's coverage of the WTA Tour.

Michael Russell

Russell is an American tennis player currently participating on the ATP World Tour. He is best known for holding match point in the 4th round of the 2001 French Open against eventual champion Gustavo Kuerten. In the 2007 Australian Open, he held a two sets to love lead over former U.S. Open and Wimbledon champion Lleyton Hewitt before succumbing in five sets. Nicknamed "Iron Mike" he is a fan favorite to Hawaii tennis fans having claimed multiple Challenger titles in Maui (2006) and Honolulu (2010). He reached his career highest ranking of #60 in August 2007.
